EXPERIENCE

Marketing Manager

Nov 2015 – Jan 2026

Momentum, Inc (A Design-Build Firm / AEC Industry)

Seattle, WA

- Built a people-first brand that breaks commodity thinking and brings Momentum to the client side of the table as a partner rather than vendor. Result: We're usually at the table before an RFP is even issued.
- Pivoted the sales and marketing strategy from directly competing with competitors as a commodity to showing our partners how they can grow and deliver on their mission through the strategies we develop and the buildings we design and deliver. Result: Clients are onboarding with us and engaging with strategic planning during sales meetings while competitors are pitching their services and pricing.
- Activated the Momentum brand through authentic content that delivers value to the reader and builds trust, focused on researching industry trends, solving problems, celebrating client wins, and showing end users thriving in high-performing buildings. Result: A reputation as a trusted resource for strategic planning and a seat at the table before a building project is even planned.
- Established Momentum as a leader in retail banking location selection by rebranding our existing market study add-on into Momentum Location Intelligence. This met an unmet market demand with a novel product with a high conversion rate to major design-build projects. Result: Exponential revenue growth and acquisition of major clients who would previously only work with much larger firms.
- Built a modern sales and marketing automation framework in HubSpot with policies and procedures that enable and enforce information sharing, collaboration, and accountability. Result: Business development staff guided by marketing insights cover more ground while focusing energy on the best opportunities.
- Developed a high-impact proposal strategy backed by strong design templates, an organized content library, and a process that translates sales team insights into a compelling story of client success. Result: Winning proposals in a clients' hands within a day.
- Thought outside the box to break prospective client inertia with creative solutions drawing from my hobby skill set. Example: After nearly a year of client indecision around workplace location, I invested a day of my time into writing a program that creates interactive maps and reports tapping into secure Google APIs to visualize drive and transit times for the company's employees to different locations under consideration. Result: Eight figures of will-they-or-won't-they work closed within a month.
